Many thanks for your prayers for safe travel, driving from MN to MA. Then I was able to fly to NM and take part in a family reunion, July 26-31. Semi-retirement is a blessing.

The ecumenical and interfaith ministry of the late Oblate George McLean will continue with a meeting in Washington, DC, from Aug.21-Sept. 22 . More may be found on the Council for Research in Values and Philosophy website: crvp.org. Prayers welcome for all participating.

The Jesuits publish a journal Civiltà Cattolica, vetted by the Vatican, with an English edition. The one of July 21 included a very controversial article examining how Protestant Fundamentalism and Catholic Integralism are working together in the USA. You may google the article, but I would recommend first the item below by a Catholic bishop in the USA who has quite a different interpretation of this process. He agrees with some of the article, but disagrees with more.

Let us continue to work with the Holy Spirit that all Christians may be one, that the world may believe (Jo. 17:21).
